From Vision to Reality

Florissa developmental center to open in mid-March

It has been a journey of nearly three years and one involving many hands. With the support of a three year federal grant, the pediatric developmental center for children with behavioral, developmental, social and emotional needs will soon be a reality for families.

The developmental center, which will be located in the former US Bank building (101 East First Street) in downtown Dixon, now has a name, Florissa, as well as an identity.

"The branding tag line for Florissa is 'Where Children and Families Flourish,'" explains Laura Watters, director of autism and day services at Kreider Services. Watters is responsible for the project's transition and is also the project for Florissa.

"The center is unique for rural areas of the United States. Florissa will provide a multidisciplinary approach to evaluation and treatment," states Watters.

"What's also remarkable about this project is its collaborative spirit. The partners who have been around the table from day one are still committed to the project. It shows in their willingness to co-locate their services in the new location for Florissa."

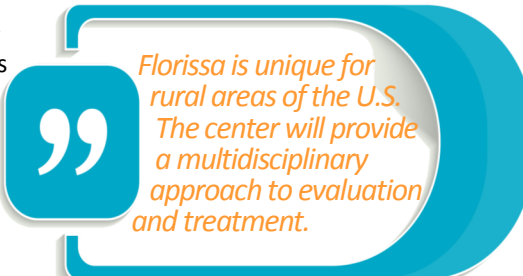

The Autism and Early Intervention programs currently housed at Kreider's main facility at 500 Anchor Road will move to the new location. The expected move in date for is mid-March. Staff of Florissa will also collaborate with Dr. Pratip Nag of KSB Hospital and staff of Mississippi Centers.

The name of the developmental center was chosen in December following a series of strategic meetings to create an identity for Florissa. The colors in the logo each represent the corporate colors of each partner.

The partnership for Florissa started more than five years ago. What was discovered back then was the need for a coordinated system of care for children, as about one third of referrals were for children who, once evaluated, didn't have autism.

Florissa is unique for rural areas of the U.S. The center will provide a multidisciplinary approach to evaluation and treatment.

"We were spending most of what was earmarked to be spent diagnosing and treating kids with autism, on instead telling kids they didn't have autism," said Watters. "The short comings of that system back then was that those kids who didn't have autism were left without a place to go."

A centralized location at Florissa means children and their families will be referred to the appropriate services they need. An open house at Florissa will be scheduled at a later time.

For more information, contact Laura Watters at (815) 288-6691, extension 226 or via email at wattersl@kreiderservices.org.

Initial funding to support Florissa was secured through a grant from the Office of Rural Health Policy, Health Resources and Services Administration.

MARCH 2015

Disabilities Awareness Month

In 1987, President Ronald Reagan designated March as National Developmental Disabilities Awareness Month, inviting individuals and organizations to observe the month with activities toward increasing public awareness of the needs and potential of persons with disabilities. Make a difference, show your support for persons with disabilities by sharing information and educating others.

10 Things You Can Do During March to Show Your Support

1. Become a member of The Arc of Lee County.
2. Like our Facebook page and post that "you support people with disabilities and you should, too."
3. Contact Kreider Services to donate your time or make a financial gift.
4. Call/email your legislator to express concern for proposed cuts to programs for persons with disabilities.
5. Take time to educate yourself about persons with disabilities.
6. Make sure your words and actions are respectful to persons with disabilities. Never use the "R" word!
7. Write a blog about the inclusion of persons with disabilities.
8. Support businesses that employ people with disabilities.
9. Provide employment for persons with disabilities.
10. Talk to someone with a disability. They're not any different than you.

From the Director's Desk

Dear Friends,

The fallout continues following Governor Rauner's budget address. I was not surprised by the drastic cuts. Budget reform was a key platform for Governor Rauner during his election campaign. He also hired consultants whose specialty is to cut budgets. I was disappointed, however, that the Governor proposed deep cuts to the state's most vulnerable, a population he promised to protect.

Early estimates show that we could be facing a shortfall of $1.4 million should proposed cuts be made to Autism, Early Intervention, ICF-DD group homes, as well as respite, dental and podiatry services for the disabled.

The hope in this process is that much remains to be done before a final budget is reached. To borrow a line from Senator Christine Radogno, the Republic Senate Leader, this is "the starting line, not the checkered flag." Stay tuned.

The membership drive for The Arc of Lee County is in full swing. Please consider becoming a member. They do a great job advocating for persons with disabilities as well as educating the public about inclusion and related topics. A membership to The Arc of Lee County is $20.00 and will strengthen the work we do every day.

March is National Disabilities Awareness Month. In this issue you will see different actions you personally can take to assist persons with disabilities. A reminder, the cause for disabilities continues in April with Autism awareness.

It's hard to believe that planning for the 2nd Annual Meaningful Day Golf Open is already underway. We're expecting a "breakthrough" year of fundraising as we look to help even more. This year's Golf Open will be held on July 17th at Lost Nation Golf Course. Get your foursome of golfers together. Consider being a corporate sponsor.

Finally, the work of many has brought together a unique children's center - Florissa. This one stop shop will be opening in downtown Dixon in mid-March. We'll have an open house in the near future.

Thanks to all of you who have supported Kreider Services. This issue, like previous, highlights those persons and organizations that have recently donated an investment of care to us! I would direct your attention to the Donors Bills of Rights that we have adopted as an organization. Those who support Kreider Services are important to us!

Thanks again for your support of Kreider Services and those who we serve daily!

A Tradition Returns

At the end of 2014, a special partnership was developed as Lee County Council on Aging and The Arc of Lee County agreed to bring a drum and bugle corps show back to the Sauk Valley area. Petunia City Brass will be held July 24th at A.C. Bowers Field of Dixon High School with a start time of 7:00 p.m. Tickets are on sale and can be purchased through the Drum Corps International (www.dci.org) or locally at either Lee County Council on Aging, Kreider Services or Venier's Jewelers.

Recycling Collection Event

Secure Recycling Services is again partnering with solid waste offices from Lee and Ogle Counties. This next event will be held on Saturday, April 18 in Rochelle. The collection location will be at Lincoln Elementary School (1450 20th Street, Rochelle).

Used electronics and clothing items will be collected during the event, which will be held from 9:00 am—1:00 pm. For more information, visit the SRS web site: securerecyclingservices.com

April 29th Autism Training

- Author of "Finding the Gray" to present

As part of Autism Awareness Month activities in April, Kreider Services and The Autism Program of Illinois (TAP) are hosting a training on Autism Spectrum Disorders, April 29th at the Elks Lodge in Dixon.

Tim Wahlberg, Ph.D., licensed clinical psychologist and certified school psychologist, will facilitate the training, which is open to interested professionals, consumers and families.

Dr. Wahlberg is from The Prairie Center of Geneva, IL. He earned his Ph.D. at Northern Illinois University and has experience in educational settings, a psychiatric facility, community mental health center as well as in private practice.

Tim Wahlberg, Ph.D.

The April 29th training is from 8:30am-4:00pm with lunch included. Cost for the training is $60.00 for professionals and $40.00 for consumers and family members. Six (6) Continuing Education Units (CEU's) will be available to those attending.

Dr. Wahlberg has published extensively on the subjects of autism and neurological impairments including his book "Finding the Gray: Understanding and Thriving in the Black and White World of Autism and Asperger's".

He is also involved in several ongoing research projects of related topics. Dr. Wahlberg has spoke on autism and reflex-delay syndrome and conducted a number of training seminars locally and nationally.

To register, call Lois Barnhart at Kreider Services, (815) 288-6691, extension 282 or visit kreiderservices.org for a registration brochure.

Kreider Services offers screenings, diagnosis and supports to children with developmental delays and autism.

Florissa, a new pediatric developmental center in downtown Dixon, is equipped with a resource center where parents/guardians and professionals can check out materials to learn about autism and other related disorders.

From the Arc

With a theme of "Like You, We Chase Our Own Dreams," the 2015 Membership Drive for The Arc of Lee County is now underway. As I'm sure you can appreciate, persons with disabilities are no different from others in reaching for the dreams that motivate them; whether it's having a regular job, going on vacation or learning a new skill.

Our goal this year is to increase our base of members to 300. It's an aggressive target but not one that is unattainable. The advocacy and educational offerings provided by The Arc of Lee County are needed now more than ever. A yearly membership to the local chapter is only $20.

A membership form can be downloaded from the Kreider Services' web site: www.kreiderservices.org. If you have any questions regarding this year's membership drive, give Becky Reilly a call at (815) 288-6691, extension 280.

It's an exciting time for the Arc of Lee County. In the coming weeks, we will begin the process of re-branding the organization. The Arc of Lee County has grown by leaps and bounds since its start in 1952. Our Board of Directors felt the need to re-brand the organization and offer advocacy, education and support to all communities served by Kreider Services.

Another exciting development that you'll be learning more about is Petunia City Brass. This event, scheduled for July 24th, is a drum and bugle corps show that The Arc and Lee County Council on Aging are combining forces on. Up to seven drum and bugle corps from around the world will invade the Petunia City the last week of July for a competition the evening of July 24th at A.C. Bowers Field at Dixon High School. Tickets can be purchased through Kreider Services, Lee County Council on Aging and Venier's Jewelers. You can also purchase them on line at: www.dci.org.

Thanks for your continued support of The Arc of Lee County.

The Arc of Lee County

Golfing for a Cause

- 2nd Annual Golf Open on July 17

With a sizable amount of snow still on the ground, it doesn't seem conceivable that we are talking about the annual Golf Open. But with warmer temperatures, hopefully, in the near future, planning has started for the 2nd Annual Meaningful Day Golf Open.

This year's Golf Open will again be held at Lost Nation Golf Course on Friday, July 17th. Golfers will be able to check in as of 10:30 a.m. with tee-off scheduled for 12:00 p.m.

"We're excited about returning to Lost Nation this year," explains Greg Gates, director of development and communications. "We heard great things from golfers and we're expecting an even bigger turnout this year."

Golfers and sponsors will receive registration information in the mail soon. Registration fee is $320.00 for a foursome or $80.00 per person. Corporate sponsorships are available for organizations.

"There are a few new corporate sponsorship opportunities this year including opportunities to sponsor dinner, the beverage cart and grand prize."

Businesses interested in being a sponsor or reserving their foursome can call Greg Gates at (815)288-6691 or send an email to him at: gatesg@kreiderservices.org.

A sit down dinner and awards banquet will follow the round of 18. Help us make it another meaningful day for persons with disabilities.
